WellSpring Pharmaceutical Corp. Achieves Green IT Certification

SARASOTA, FL- March 20, 2009 – WellSpring Pharmaceutical Corporation today announced that it has been awarded the Green Information Technology Certification from Anexio, Inc. The Green IT Certification is awarded to companies whose use of Information Technology facilitates lower energy usage while reducing carbon emissions and operational costs.

Dr. Robert A. Vukovich, WellSpring President and CEO said, “WellSpring is pleased to partner with Anexio, Inc. in our ongoing efforts to be environmentally friendly. At WellSpring, we believe it is important to maintain Green IT compliance. WellSpring looks forward to further implementing cutting edge energy efficient solutions through our relationship with Anexio, Inc.”

WellSpring Pharmaceutical Corp. achieved this certification by using a Green IT Certified Managed Services Provider. By allowing their Managed Services Provider to deliver services using cutting edge remote management technologies, both companies have reduced carbon emissions, energy consumption and have significantly reduced operating costs while increasing profit margins.

As the world’s largest professional association and accrediting body for the Managed Services industry, the MSPAlliance has developed a set of standards to achieve Green IT Certification. “Companies such as WellSpring deserve to be recognized for their commitment to reduced carbon emissions, energy saving practices, and improved bottom line,” said Charles Weaver, MSPAlliance president.

About WellSpring Pharmaceutical Corp.
